To Whom It May Concern,

Guho Corporation recently completed the construction of the Valley Regional Transit (VRT) Downtown Shelters – Phase II, in Boise, Idaho. They addressed multiple agency demands, acted efficiently to design changes and provided well-crafted construction management in an expedient manner. Their attention to detail, adherence to the construction schedule and attention to the budget made this project an enjoyable experience. Guhos' ability to work with VRT, their subcontractors and the inspecting agencies provided for a professional, efficiently run and cost effective project.

Matt Guho brought knowledge, experience, integrity and a proven track record. I would recommend them for your general contracting needs.

Sincerely,

Rhonda Jalbert
